The last roof for your RV

All of us are aware of the horrors of a leaky roof, especially a leak that no matter what you do it just doesn't go away. Stains on the ceiling, water damage to cabinets, wallpaper and carpet, and let's not forget that horrible lingering smell that takes an exorcism and holy water to get rid of.

Well, this horror story is now a thing of the past, thanks to the scientific advances in modern technology. Finally, a liquid acrylic RV roofing system has been developed that will eliminate roof leaks once and for all.

Imagine peace of mind that you will never have a roof leak again.

The acrylic permanently bonds to rubber, fiberglass and metal and resists extreme temperatures. It withstands pounding rain, snow, hail and high winds. The acrylic is also unaffected by harmful ozone and ultraviolet rays.

And as for those ugly black and white streaks going down the side of your RV caused by your decaying roof system, gone forever!

This acrylic roofing system is totally maintenance free and comes with a free, transferable ten year material and Labor No Leak Guarantee.
